This game is not just about winning, but about surviving one another. You may have a question that is not answered in these Rules, so it's up to you to decide how to play—build alliances, vote your conscience, but remember, your votes and actions will be remembered at the Tribal Council when it's time to vote someone out of the game!

Object: To survive and be the last player in the game. You'll win by collecting Survival Items, winning Immunity, and ultimately being spared in the Tribal Council vote.

Survival
Items

- Separate two decks of Survival Items Cards (spots on backs) and Command Cards (flames on backs). Shuffle them separately. Deal four Survival Items Cards to each player, who picks them up and looks at his hand. Place the remainder of Survival Items Cards face down in a Draw pile.
- Place the Command Cards face down in a separate Draw pile.
- Each player should also get a Survival List and lay it face up in front of himself. On the corner of each Survival List is a color symbol; that symbol is your color, and will represent your life in the game.
- Of the 8 items on the Survival List, players must obtain highlighted Items (e.g., Rope, Matches) to win the Immunity Idol. The number of items needed depends on how many players are in the game:
 - If there are five or more players, you need to get all five of the highlighted Survival Items.
 - If there are four players, you need to get any four of the five highlighted Survival Items.
 - If there are three players, you need to get any three of the five highlighted Survival Items.
- Place the Immunity Idol card face up in the middle of the playing area.

Let's Play:

- Youngest player goes first.
- Turn over one Command Card for all to see and follow its direction. Place it face up in a Discard pile next to the Command Card Draw pile.
- Play goes clockwise; each player takes turns turning over a Command Card and following its direction. When the Cards say to "Draw," draw from the top of the Survival Items pile. When it says to "Discard," discard the Survival Item to the bottom of the Survival Items pile. When one player gets the needed number of highlighted Survival Items on his Survival List, that person wins the Immunity Idol! Now it's time for Tribal Council, where you'll vote one player out of the game...

Tribal Council Vote:

- Each player should have his Survival List in front of him. Choose a player to vote out of the game except for the player who holds the Immunity Idol; that person is immune from being voted out this round. Note the colored icon on each player's Survival List—the color will be used to vote. The Immunity Idol holder goes first. From the Command Card pile, pick one Command Card with the colored icon of the person you want to vote out.
- Then, pass around the pile of Command Cards so all players can pick a card for voting. All players hand in their Vote/Command Cards to the Immunity Idol holder. (IF you're playing with more than 5 players and you are short an icon card for Voting, you can use the deck of Survival Items, noting their colored icons.)
- Once the cards are in, the Immunity Idol holder reads the votes one by one, and places the cards down for all to see. Whose color shows up the most? That person is out of the game! If there is a tie, the Immunity Idol holder breaks the tie by declaring aloud who is out of the game.
- Once voting is complete and someone is voted out of the game, that player puts his cards back in the bottom of the Draw pile. But don't go away; you'll get to be part of the final vote at the end of the game!
- The Immunity Idol holder places all of his Survival Items Cards back at the bottom of the Draw pile. Draw four new Survival Items Cards and it's time for a new round.
- For each new round, with a reduced number of players, note the number of Survival Items you'll need to win immunity.
- Reshuffle the Command Cards and put back in the middle of the playing area. Play continues clockwise with remaining players.
- If a player draws the Command Card that reads, "Someone must go. Go to Tribal Council now," everyone goes to vote immediately. The player who picked that card automatically earns the Immunity Idol for that vote.

Down to 2 players:

- When the game winds down to just two players, all players are back in the game for the final vote. Using the Command Cards with colored icons, vote for who you want to win! The last surviving player with the most votes is the winner!
- If there is a tie, shuffle the Command Cards you just used for voting, then flip the top one. Whose color is it? That person's card will signify the game winner.

Winning:

The last player who survives wins the game!
