Instructions

1

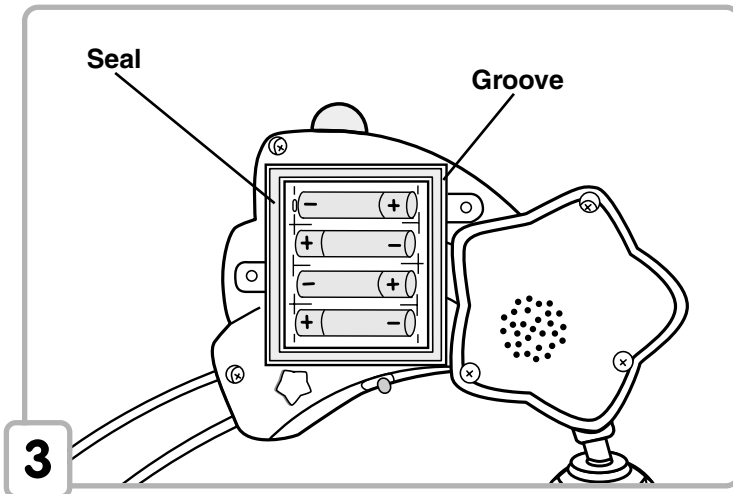

- Loosen the clamp and remove the mobile from the crib.

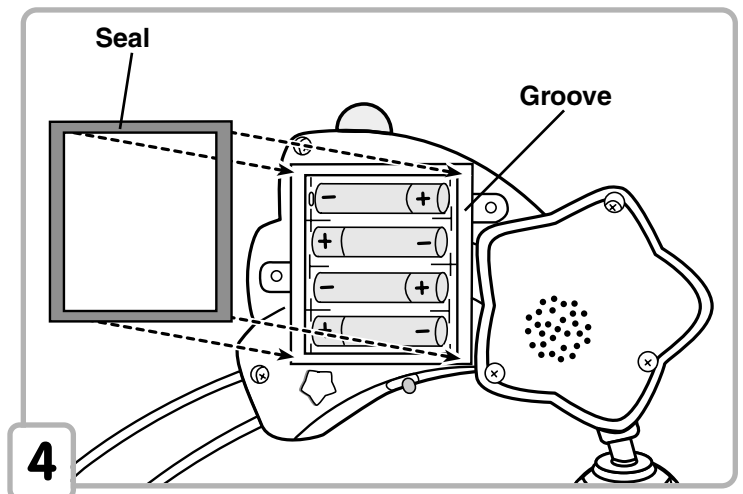

2

- Loosen the screws in battery compartment door. Carefully remove the battery compartment door.
Note: Exhausted batteries can leak fluids. Take extra care when opening the battery compartment. If battery fluid gets on your hands, wash them immediately!

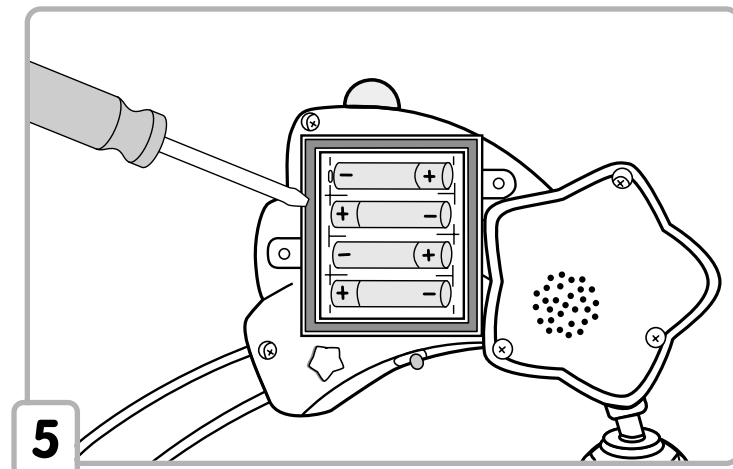

Instructions

- Look inside the groove surrounding the battery compartment.
- If your product DOES NOT have a seal, you must install one. Please follow steps 4 and 5.
- If a seal is already in this groove, your product DOES NOT require repair. Please throw away the enclosed seal. Replace the battery compartment door and tighten the screws. Do not over-tighten the screws.

- Fit the seal into the groove surrounding the battery compartment, as shown in the illustration.

- Using a flathead screwdriver, carefully push the seal completely into the groove in the battery compartment.
- Replace the battery compartment door and tighten the screws. Do not over-tighten the screws.

Installation is complete.

Note: Always remove exhausted batteries from any product. Exhausted batteries can leak fluids that can cause a chemical burn or injury.
