

SAFETY RECALL!

One product recalled for impermissible levels of lead

Mattel, Inc. announced that the company has voluntarily recalled one toy from the "CARS" die-cast vehicle line ("Sarge" character, item number H6414 or L6294), sold from May 2007 through August 2007, containing impermissible levels of lead, which can cause adverse health effects.

Consumers should immediately take these products away from children and contact the local Mattel office to arrange return.

Affected by the recall are only "Sarge" cars which

- Were manufactured in "CHINA" (see picture 1) and
- The last three characters of the date code are "7EA" (see picture 2).
